THE FIFTH BIRTHDAY OF WORLD PEACE

Armistice Day, November 11th will be fittingly observed at Clemson.

"Peace will be five years old on the morning of November 11th, 1923. Five years ago that day, at eleven A. M. Meuse-Agronne non-daylight-saving time, some five million Americans were military men, conducting a war one minute and the next minute awaking to a realization that they had graduated from it and become veterans. It is most-ly pleasant to be a veteran, but it wasn't all pleasantness to be qualifying for veteranship.

Thus has the American Legion Weekly attempted to explain, as near as it is possible to explain, why veterans everywhere will join hands in celebrating this, the fifth birthday of peace, as it has never been celebrated before.

Under the auspices of Clemson College Post No. 42, American Legion, and with the co-operation of the other organizations on the campus, Clemson College will fittingly observe this event. Armistice day comes on Sunday this year and will be observed here on that day by Union Services in the Memorial Hall. All the churches on the campus will co-operate in this undertaking. The Rev. John McSweeney, former U. S. Army Chaplain who saw service over-seas, and now pastor of the Clemson College Presbyterian church will deliver the sermon at this service.

On Monday night November 12th the Clemson College Post is staging a banquet. All ex-service men, their families and friends are invited. In addition to the bounteous spread being prepared there will be special music and some good talks. Already about seventy five plates have been spoken for. It now appears that the banquet will be a great affair.

Any Ex-service man desiring tickets should get in touch with members of the local post at once.

THE PALMETTO LITERARY #### SOCIETY

The Palmetto held its regular meeting Friday evening after supper. There was a good crowd present as is usual.

The meeting was called to order by the president and the program then taken up. The following men took part in the debate: Messrs J. G. Shands and J. F. Jones on the affirmative, and H. S. Hinson and J. S. Sutherland on the negative. The affirmative won by a vote of two to one. The joker, Mr. J. W. Carson had a real interesting selection of jokes which he read to the society. He kept the house in a constant uproar for the time he had the floor.

On a motion of election of the second for my class, there will be no more carried out on the floor. I can't keep a goat the ninth.

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD IN CHAPEL

Tablet Erected To Clemson Women

Friday morning in the college chapel presented a scene of unusual interest to the people of the community as well as to the cadets. Prior to the ceremonies, an announcement had been made, so a large crowd of the campus people attended the unveiling of the memorial tablet.

The regular chapel service was opened by the Rev. Mr. McSweeney of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Riggs gave a very suitable introduction to the ceremonies. Telling of the intensity of excitement during the fall of 1918 due to the prospects of the cadets entering the war, and how at this decisive moment the dreadful demon disease swept the country and the campus, as if the war were not enough. Three hundred and eighty-five of the cadets, half of the corps at that time, were suddenly stricken by the influenza epidemic. Because of the insufficiency of the college hospital to take care of such a large number at one time, and as nurses were hard to secure—the college chapel was turned into an infirmary with the ladies of the campus acting as nurses. Dr. Riggs then introduced the speaker of the occasion, Major Henry C. Tillman, a veteran of the late war and a member of the Class of '03.

Major Tillman highly commended the women of the campus, first as women and second for their bravery in undertaking such a task. Because of the impossibility to secure nurses to nurse the boys, the women boldly risked the danger of death and family, to give them the proper nursing. Their action brought to view a higher form of courage. A man fights for his country and glory, his deeds will be written as history. But woman often gains no recognition, seldom the due praise she deserve. So the Board of Trustees have presented this memorial as a tribute and recognition

NEEDED—MORE PEP

What's the matter with that pep, fellows? Are you going to lay down on the team and stop going to the pep meetings? The pep meetings in chapel was rotten last night—only about the first five rows were filled. Remember that the cheer leaders are not being paid for their services, and when they call a pep meeting that everyone should be there and raising the roof. There will be another pep meeting in chapel tomorrow night and we WANT EVERY MAN in the corps to be there with bells on. The big lights in the ceiling are insured against falling, so let's see if we can't collect some insurance!

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WINS FROM GEORGIA

Runners Finish In Front Of Stands Between Halves Of Rat Game—Tigers Win By Small Margin

Tiger cross-country runners opened their season Saturday afternoon by winning from opponents, and the final score was Clemson 28, Georgia 29, this being one of those unusual sports in which the low scorer is the winner.

After their grueling test over a three mile up-hill and down-dale course, the runners came back with all the leaders in a small bunch, considering the length of the race, and finished before the grandstands on Riggs' Field which was occupied by the spectators who turned out for the "Rat" football game. Tate of Georgia and Howard of Georgia came in first and second, respectively, but the meet was won for the Tigers by the consistent manner in which the Tigers came in for the remaining places. E. C. Sease was the third man in the race, and the first Clemson runner to finish, while Hart got fourth.

The order of finish was as follows:

1. Tate, Georgia.
2. Howard, Georgia.
3. E. C. Sease, Clemson.
4. Hart, Clemson.
5. Griffin, Georgia.
6. Daniel, Clemson.
7. Jordan, Clemson.
8. Killian, Clemson.
9. Ellison, Clemson.
10. Marks, Georgia.
11. Orr, Georgia.

TIGERS LOSE TO VA. POLYTECHS.

After Out Playing V. P. I For Thirty Minutes Tiger Team Is Forced To Take Small End Of 25-6 Score.

Against Centre the Clemson eleven outfought and outplayed its opponents for the first two periods of a great football game last Saturday. In the face of terrific opposition the Tiger team took the ball on the jumps during the first few minutes of the game. As a result of a brilliant and beautifully executed series of plays the South Carolinians hung up the first counter of the contest.

The Virginians seemed to consider this touchdowns to be an open invitation to them to start scoring. Soon after the Palmetto contingent scored its lone touchdown the Gobblers succeeded in showing the pigskin across Clemson goal. This completed the scoring for the first period. In the second quarter the well-timed boot of Dan Rutherford urged the oval between the uprights for an additional three points.

The third period saw the Virginia Polytechs threaten Clemson's goal only one time. During the remainder of this period the two teams held one another in mid-field.

TIGER CUBS LOSE TO FURMAN FRESH

Weak Defensive Work of Rats Loses Game—Furman Freshman Strong On Offensive

Coach Goodale's Tigers Cubs were unable to cope with the Furman Freshmen on Riggs' Field Saturday afternoon, and the baby Hornets got the decision 26 to 0. Displaying an attack which made frequent gains for good distances through the line, and excellent interference on end runs, the visitors gained enough ground to net them four touchdowns. They failed to make a single point after touchdown.

The first scoring came when a Clemson punt was blocked and a Tiger Cub fell on the ball behind his own goal line, giving Furman two points for a safety. From this time on the young Hornets made consistent gains. The young Tigers made a few good gains at times, but were unable to get very deep into Furman territory.

Henry Hartzog was the leading ground-gainer for Clemson new boys while Carter Newman was another leading light of the backfield. The defensive work of Pete Reynolds was of a stellar variety. For the visitors Armstrong, Crawford, and Duncan were the stars.

SKEYHILL'S TALK

ENJOYED BY ALL

Young Lecturer Is Among Best Ever Heard Here—Talk Full Of Thrilling And Beautiful Descriptions.

"Tom Skeyhill's description were the best I've ever heard," was the remark heard from all sides after the lyceum entertainment Saturday night.

Skeyhill came to Clemson much heralded, and his hearers were in no wise disappointed. The talk that he made kept his audience breathless with wonder and suspense. His description of the Mediterranean and Aegean seas, and of the battle of the Dardanelles could not be surpassed anywhere. The talk was all the more interesting because Skeyhill has been there himself and was one of those who made the attack on the Dardanelles.

He told of conditions in Bolshevik

DAVIDSON TO INVADE TIGER LAIR FRIDAY

Tigers To Stage Big Grid Fight On Home Field—Davidson Wildcats To Be The Victims.

Once upon a time, an old hound dog, of some ten years or more, experience in the canine realm, wished to call his fellow mongrels' attention to the fact that one of their number had become the victim of a stray dose of turpentine, which had been rather liberally distributed. In order to do so, the above named disturber of cotton-tail luxury, voiced his call to assemble in the usual plaintive notes of his specie.

His commanding voice was heard to peal forth in the following order: A-W-o-o-o-l you dogs—

In like manner we wish to call a-w-o-o-o-l you cadets. Friday afternoon will see our own football team in the act of defending Clemson's prestige against the onslaught of an invading team.

Davidson is bringing a whole of a scrappy crew down here for Friday's fracas.

In order to urge our team to the utmost let us get in the proper frame of mind to root for them and encourage them in their efforts on the field.

Turn out for these pep meetings and learn to yell. Last night saw six benches full at a pep meeting. That is rotten spirit. Turn out and get opened up.

Show that Tiger team that a real bunch of fellows knows how to cheer a real football team to victory. The Davidson game was moved forward one day to prevent a conflict with the Furman-Carolina game on Saturday.

All together gang let us mount that Davidson crew on the old proverbial rail.

WADE HAMPTON LITERARY SOCIETY

The Wade Hampton Literary Society held its regular meeting on Friday Nov. 2nd.

The President called the meeting to order and the program was carried out in its usual manner. Every man showed ardent preparation as was shown by the excellence of each part. Probably the most interesting feature of the program was the debate, Resolved: that South Carolina should pass the divorce law. On the affirmative were J. H. Timmons and J. W. Sawyer while G. W. Cox and C. T. Smith upheld the negative side of the question. The sides were so closely matched that it was exceedingly hard for the judges to determine the winners but after close consideration the decision was in favor of the negative.

There being no business to attend to, the society adjourned to meet again Friday, November 9th.

WANTED—ENLIGHTENMENT

Why is it that Clemson teams are noted for the whirlwind method with which they start off a game and for the rather weak manner in which they often finish the same game? Is it the result of continuous hammering by the fresh substitutes which the opposing coaches send in to tire our men out? Do we make enough substitutions during our football games? Is a tired man at his worst better than a fresh substitute? Will we beat Furman and P. C. if our team peters out in the fourth quarter?

We can answer that question in a word of one syllable—NO. The other questions are more difficult to answer. Overconfidence and hopelessness are two things which might make a team let up after the half or after the third quarter; but in neither the Centre game nor in the V. P. I. game was our team overconfident. And we would never believe it of them that they lost hope and lay down. The answer may lie in the fact that the opposing team has had some unusual incentive, or stimulus, to make them fight harder—because we know from experience that a team can play harder when the students are cheering themselves hoarse on the sidelines.

But really and truly, can a man play his best game when he is pounding a line for 60 solid minutes in an hour? We believe that any football player can reenter a game with renewed pep and vigor when he has had a rest of a few minutes. Of course this does not apply to every player, because some men can stand the pressure better than others, and some men have much more endurance than the rest.

One advantage that we will have over in Greenville Thanksgiving day is that we will be right there on the sidelines to back that team and make them do their best for Clemson. Of course in the two home contests with Davidson and P. C. respectively, we will be there with bells on and will be able to keep the team on their toes. Lets get busy gang and make that last half of the game the winning half for Clemson!

KEEPING FIT.

Through the winter months it is the tendency of college students to let the physical development of their body remain at a standstill. This should not be so, inasmuch as the body is best developed in the colder months of the year. Even though one keeps in trim shape through nine months of the year, a three month "sluff" will destroy all of the physical development gained. Statistics show that exercise is invaluable to every one, and especially to students, who spend much of their time indoors. From the standpoint of health, one who takes sufficient exercise is much less apt to contract disease than one who is content to sit idly by, and take no active part in any form of exercise.

The student at Clemson is offered many forms of recreational exercise through the long winter months. Company basketball, company football, track work, swimming, and many other forms of exercise are available. There is room for every one, and a man is cheating his own self when he does not take part in any one of these.

A clean body is indicative of clear thinking. The student who keeps his physical body developed will have only a fractional part of the trouble keeping his mind clean, as will the student who idles his time away in cheap talk, and foolish chatter.

His friends at Clemson are pleased to learn of the success which has attended Dr. E. J. Stewart, former Athletic Director and Head Coach here, in his new duties at the University of Texas. Meeting with success from the start, "Doc" has won all his games at the Lone Star institution and bids fair to make a wonderful record during his first season.

In defeating the strong Vanderbilt team, "Doc" Stewart indeed performed a difficult feat. The Commodores had been undefeated in the South for two seasons, and have made the best showing of any Southern team in the inter-sectional games holding the powerful Michigan team of the Western Conference to one scoreless tie and one 3 to 0 game. When his Longhorns conquered this powerful eleven 16 to 0, "Doc" indeed deserves the congratulations of his numerous admirers.

TIGERS LOSE TO VA.

POLYTECHS.

At the beginning of the final period V. P. I found its way into high gear. During this period the mighty Techites ran wild, and the final whistle was heard to cast its sharp echo over the sad results of an hours hard fighting.

By scoring two touchdowns and a field goal during the last fifteen minutes of play the Virginians sacked up a total of twenty-five counters against a lone touchdown scored by the Tiger contingent.

Say gang, it was a bitter pill to swallow, but that is a day gone by.
Let’s get the memory of it out of our system and get to sparking for the next three weeks.

Scores fail to tell the story of the deeds of the vanquished. Altho the best efforts of eleven fighting sons of Clemson were snowed under by that bloody twenty-five, let’s build new hopes and better efforts. The magic idea is to fight hell out of Furman.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

BY "BALDHEAD"

THE TIGERS are now entering the last lap of their journey through the football season. Three games are still to be played, Davidson, Presbyterian College, and Furman furnishing the opposition. Davidson and P. C. will give hard games which will require real playing from the boys of Coach "Bud," but the real battle will be the Tiger-Hurricane joust in Greenville Thanksgiving Day. This will be a battle worth going miles to see. Both teams are so far undefeated, so far as state games are considered, and the livelihood is that they will continue so to that date. The Tigers must beat Coach Johnson's Blue-stockings. They will have to play football to do this, but all Clemson is confident that the game will result in another Jungle victory. Furman must beat Carolina, Newberry, and Erskine to keep their percentage of 1000. Newberry and Erskine should offer no great obstacle to them. Carolina will give a stiff fight, but the consensus of opinion is that the Hurricane will come through on top. If things come out in this manner, the Clemson-Furman Turkey Day scrap will be for the state pennant. Furman will be hard to beat—the hardest team in South Carolina for us to beat. But Clemson has a football team which will give their all. They will play football which experts might think physically impossible for them to play. Above all they will fight relentlessly until the final whistle sounds on the 1923 season. And we firmly believe that they will fight so ferociously, after the manner of Tigers, that the Purple Hurricane, a team many think is their superior, will succumb.

DAVIDSON'S WILDCATS come to the Tiger lair on Friday for their game with Clemson. Looking over the record of this team for the season, we find that the Davidsonians have made a name for themselves as a scrapping little team, despite their unexpected defeat by Wake Forest and the large number of points piled up on them by Furman. To their credit we find victories over P. C., Citadel, and Elon and games in which they held both V. P. I. and North Carolina State to one touchdown margins. Their showing against V. P. I. was fine, the Wildcats playing on even terms with the Virginia Tech boys, and losing by just 7 points. Davidson's record for the season follows:

Davidson	19	Elon	0
Davidson	3	P. C.	0
Davidson	0	V. P. I.	7
Davidson	7	Citadel	0
Davidson	0	Wake Forest	6
Davidson	0	Furman	30
Davidson	6	N. C. State	12
35	Totals	55

JUST ONE game between two South Carolina teams was played last week, and this had no bearing on the state title. Citadel defeated Newberry 21 to 7 in this game. The Cadets ran wild during the first half, and made three touchdowns. In the third period the Indians outplayed the Bulldogs and scored their touchdown.

BESIDES CLEMSON, Carolina, Furman, and Wofford took on foes from other states during the week. North Carolina and South Carolina battled at Columbia, and the Tarheels proved their superiority. The Gamecocks showed no offense worth speaking of, but put up a good defense, though the driving Tarheels thoroughly earned the two touchdown which gave them a 13 to 0 victory. Oglethorpe made an invasion of the Palmetto State and played two games during the week, Wofford on Thursday and Furman on Saturday. The Stormy Petrels outclassed Wofford. They had lost thirteen consecutive games prior to this one, and they were due to win one. They did, by the score of 32 to 0, completely outclassing Wofford and giving the Terriers first defeat of the season. The Petrels however, got another defeat when they met Furman, the Hornets steady attack piling 29 points to their none.

AUBURN AND CENTRE participated Saturday in two games which are Southern classics, one winning and the other losing. Georgia defeated the Tigers of the Plains in their annual tussle at Columbus, Ga. Day intercepted a forward pass and ran 65 yards for the only touchdown of the day, Georgia winning 7 to 0. This Georgia-Auburn game is one of those hectic battles between ancient rivals which always result in close games. Centre tied up with Kentucky in the Bluegrass State classic. The largest crowd which ever saw a football game in Kentucky saw the Colonels win by the score of 10 to 0.

IN OTHER IMPORTANT Southern games, Alabama and Georgia Tech played a scoreless tie, Washington and Lee defeated Virginia 7 to 0, the Generals being still undefeated by a Southern team and putting in a strong bid for the South Atlantic title, Vanderbilt was held to a scoreless tie by Mississippi A. & M., Florida defeated Mercer 19 to 7, Tennessee beat Tulane 13 to 2, and Texas defeated Rice 27 to 0.

THREE BIG GAMES in the East resulted in three teams, Cornell, Yale, and Syracuse, keeping their records unsmirched by defeat or tie games. Cornell, undefeated for two previous seasons, triumphed over the hitherto undefeated Dartmouth Green 32 to 7, Yale brought joy to the followers of the Blue by beating the West Point Cadets 31 to 10 and Syracuse showed her power by slashing her way to a 10 to 0 victory over Penn State. Other big Eastern games resulted in Navy defeating Colgate 9 to 0, Princeton defeating Swarthmore 35 to 6, Harvard defeating Tufts 16 to 0, and Lafayette tying Washington and Jefferson 6 and 6.

COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Although a good program was carried out by the Columbian Literary Society on last Friday night, the society was handicapped by the absence of several members, who were on the program. This seems to be the chief drawback of the society. Let us pull together, fellows, for the good of the society and for our own good. You get from the society just what you put into it. So when you are on the program, come up and do your best; no man can do better.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mr. R. H. Smith. Then the program of the evening was taken up. The first number was a declamation by Mr. J. Kershaw. The theme of his declamation was the loyalty of a dog to its master. The reader was Mr. J. W. Kibler, whose selection was entitled "How to Study." The proposition debated was Resolved: That the United States Government should own and operate the coal mines of this country." Messrs. J. C. Aull and B. A. Pruitt supported the affirmative. The regular members on the negative being absent, Messrs. K. B. Sanders and T. L. Jefferies volunteered to take their places. The debate was a spirited one, the negative winning the decision of the judges.

One new member, Mr. G. C. Harvey, was received into the society. At the next meeting officers for the second term will be elected.

C.A.C. FACULTY FEASTS IN Y. M. C. A. CLUB ROOM

The faculty, along with several speakers, met in the Ladies Club Room of the "Y" on Wednesday October 31 to enjoy one of the most delightful luncheons seen on the campus for some time. About sixty members of the faculty seated themselves at 12:30 P. M. around three tables loaded with good things to eat. For a short time the rattle of silverware and the low murmur of contented voices filled the hall with noises that made it known to the passerby that men had met in a meeting, not as enemies, but as friends of mankind. Each man revelled in the others wit only to be halted by the speakers of the day.

The first speaker, as announced by Prof. S. M. Martin, was Mr. Frank M. Brockman of Korea. The second speaker, Mr. J. E. Johnson of Clemson '06, spoke in the interest of State and Foreign Y. M. C. A. Both men contributed to a great extent towards making the dinner complete, not only in the interest of their own cause, but they introduced spurt of humor from beginning to end so that every follower of Epicurus could give his anatomy a vertical motion which would naturally result in more space being obtained internally for dainty food. The hour, spent in feasting passed too quickly, but the time was well used, and every man went away with food for mind and body.

as follows:

Tomato Soup	Crackers
Pickles
Creamed Chicken	Creamed Potatoes
Hot Rolls	Butter
English Peas
Potato salad	Ice tea
Ice cream

esting short talks emphasizing the benefits of the society and the importance of making it a success.

A motion was made and unanimously carried, that the president should invite a professor from one of the agricultural divisions to give a short talk on his phase of work at each meeting of the society in addition to the regular program.

There being no further business the society adjourned.

THE CALHOUN

Fellows Members of the Calhoun Literary Society:

If you were not present at the last meeting of our society, this column is directed to you, with the hope that "a word to the wise will be sufficient." If you were there, then take heed and remember, for if you are ever so unfortunate as to be absent from one of our meetings "the cap," which is ever adjustable, will automatically fit your head.

Before telling you what I think about you, judging from your past actions, I am going to tell you a little of what you missed by not being up on the third floor of the main building between the hours of six and eight last Friday night. After the society was called to order and the roll was called, the unusual began to happen, the program—and just think, you missed it all—proved to be absolutely green in all outward appearances, this being due of course to the generosity of our "New boys," who had kindly consented to present the entire program on this occasion. They did themselves, and us, credit; and it is to your shame that you were not present to show your appreciation of their efforts.

Did you ever stop and think of just what you mean to the Calhoun Literary Society? Did you ever hear the saying, "A whole cannot exist without its parts."

Fellows members, there were seventeen of our parts missing, lost Friday night, and the old machines best average was only 68 miles an hour. If you were one of those who caused this retardation in our progress, then be on hand next Friday night to help us elect our Officers, so that the last meeting of this quarter may be a success.

Remember that the "Calhoun" cannot continue to be the best Literary Society at Clemson unless you, who are the real Society, do your duty to her and to Clemson.
